a LETTER from Your editor

Hello fellow teen girls and their (barely) closeted friends,

Sorry this next installment of the Plague Magazine saga took so long. During the winter, I went hiking in the Russian tundra with my very, very, very close roommate. We got a little turned around and ended up in an icy hellscape, on the verge of freezing to death. Unfortunately, we had to kill our pet camel, Dennis the Pleasant, and stay inside his carcass to stay warm until the blizzard subsided. All and all, probably one of our better vacations. Kinda reminded me of being back in the womb. Especially since I also had to eat my roommate just like how I ate my twin in utero. Now, that's what we call in the biz a "diva down." It's a bit of a shame though since they were also my beta reader, but that's just the way the crumble cookies.

Anyways, you might be wondering why the esteemed Plague academic journal is writing a teen magazine this year? Well dear reader, if grown ass old white men can write a teen magazine, why can't we? We are all teen girls at heart here at Plague Magazine. Yes, even the twinks on our staff who some may argue are the most teen girls of us all. We too spend financially irresponsible amounts of money on sweet treats we shouldn't have, but need. We too are still being stalked by our mothers on Life 360 and being asked why we're at the Box at 3

AM. In short, being a teen girl is a state of mind.

This magazine is still 18+, but when has that ever stopped hordes of teen girls from consuming 500,000 word fanfics featuring their favorite twink getting railed for 30 chapters straight?! Although, last time we got in trouble with the moderators for being 'too extreme' with our writing. In our defense, we did go viral on Twitter and, as they say, "no press is bad press."

That's enough preamble. This magazine is mostly not about our problematic twitter history. It's about all the teen girls and their (barely) closeted friends out there who just want the chance to be seen and heard. Close your Ao3 tabs, stop replying to your oomfs on twitter, and for gods sake, just delete your tumblr account. Enjoy real muckraking at its finest.

plague girls thru the years!

The real and totally accurate historical recount of what it was like to be a #teen #girl in Salem, Massachusetts during the 1600s!

As is customary, I, Sarah Mullins, arose at dawn's light to commence my daily prayers. I, being just a girl, wished for simple things, health and happiness for my family, a good annual harvest, and occasionally, I wished I would be married in the future to a pious, but handsome man. Preferably John Smuthers of the Smuthers clan. Now that harlot Goody Martha with her overendowed bosom, had been accused of witchcraft last fortnight and burnt at the stake, perhaps John would finally pay me mind. It's as they say, "Thou do not respect God's wish, thou are no more than a heathenous bitch." Apologies Martha, but I doth say the gates of hell await thine, skank behind.

After my routine commune with the divine, I had to do my wretched housework. Being 18 years of age, the duties of the house befall upon me and my mother. Although, the task of cleaning excrement from the family chamber pot that has lasted us five very odorous generations did not bring me much choice, I knew better not to question it. Otherwise. I'd be hung just like Amanda Collins who was executed not but a few days ago for suggesting women should have the right to education. Woman, reading and writing? How utterly preposterous!

In the noon of the afternoon, I venture to the town square for my bible study group with my best-est companions. Though, I shall privy thee to a secret. You mustn't speak a word. Our study group is merely a pretext for us to gather under the guise of piousness, but in truth dear reader, we gather to share the most recent comings and goings in the village. Such as Protocor Adams, who was rumored to be reading scripture with the recently widowed Agnes Smith. It seemed plain to us that the Proctor was indeed on the prowl.

A delightful interruption to our gabbing was made by none other than John Smuthers. God hath truly blessed me on his day! John looked in my direction, demonstrating his pale-yellow and mostly non-crooked teeth, and inquired as to how my day was. Ack! Be still my beating heart! Yet, I remained calm, reservedly answering as to not betray my emotions.

John knew it not yet, but he and I were to be wed. In time, I will be revered as the newest Mrs. Sarah Smuthers. John and I will finally then be free for him to penetrate me with his big strong words of affirmation. Mayhaps something else, but I tease thou for now. Mustn't stray too far from God's holy light. For now, I'll bid thee goodnight.

Clandestinely candid as can be, Sarah Mullins

Taylor Swift: "I got Bullied!"

"You may know me as a legendary pop star selling out stadiums. But once upon a time, I was just another shy fifteen-year-old getting picked on in the hallways. I dealt with all the typical bully hijinks: name-calling, shoving me into lockers, setting my backpack on fire, drawing a salt ring around my chair. I tried to shrug it off, but it was hard. Every day, I'd have to face these bullies who'd chant in tongues and dance around me while ripping out strands of my hair, one by one, until I was completely bald. Classic sophomore slump. One time when I was walking to Chem, I turned the corner to see one of my bullies, Connor, levitating mid-air with his eyeballs hanging by the nerves out of the sockets. He force choked, hexed, and slammed me on the ground.

Ugh, I thought. High school couldn't get any worse. One day I got to school and I saw the word "SLUT" on my locker. I turned around to see the popular clique had formed a candelit seance with my flayed dog in the center and were trying to summon the spirit of my late grandfather.

Unbelievable! I'll always miss Buster, but hey, that's a Monday in high school for you.

All this to say, don't let bullies get you down. High schoolers can be immature, but you live and you learn.

A Survival Guide To Tell Famous White Boys Apart

Timothée Chalamalabingbong

Timmy has gone through many changes recently. He cut his beautiful curls and grew a pedophile's mustache. He bagged Kylie Jenner and became the head coach of the Knicks. But all that wasn't enough, he needed some other way to differentiate himself from the sea of white boys. So he went so far as to shave his head completely! So if you see a bald skinny white boy walking the streets of New York City with his girlfriend who's way too hot for him, it's likely Timothée Chalamander.

Finn Wolfhard

Now this is where things get tricky, because Finn too shaved off his luscious locks recently. So how else can you tell him apart from famous white boys like Timmy? Well, unlike Stormy's almost stepfather, Finn is known for one thing only: Stranger Things. That show put him on the map, and is the only thing that's kept him on there. Every other movie he's been in has essentially flopped, so a good rule of thumb is – if the white boy flick you're watching is mid, it's probably Finn Wolfhard. Bonus points if his character is in a straight relationship but he's secretly in love with his gay best friend.

Sombor

Sombor might be the easiest to single out, simply because he's a giant. At a whopping 6' 7" and roughly 90lbs, he's essentially a sentient palm tree. Luckily, he hasn't cut off all his hair yet, but given the white boy trajectory, I wouldn't be surprised if it happened soon. Thus, you can't rely on his haircut to differentiate him. Maybe just look for a tall white guy who makes sex jokes in front of 13 year olds?

Terry Crews

Terry Crews has been bald for what seems like his whole life, so don't go off his hair either. Luckily, there is one big difference between him and all the other boys on this list. His skin! Unlike Timmy, Finny, and Sombry, Terry actually has muscles under his skin. He's less of a palm tree and more of a dorito with leprosy if you will.

Meet River Rider (born Horatio De Rider XV)

Get to know one of the super-sexy members of the next hot boyband - Boyz to MorMen!

What do you think about your fans?

They are all so amazing, I'm so grateful! We call them the soakers, and I've really never met such a lively bunch. When we're singing out smash hit "Shaking Under Your Bed," they make the stadium shake more than the bed!

What is your role in the band?

I'm the main bed-man, so that means I am the one under the bed shaking it during our live demonstrations. It's such an honor to be in such an important role and I definitely get a leg workout too hahaha!

What genre of music do you play?

Well obviously most mainstream music is Satanic, however, we've found the perfect mixture of Godliness and good ol' beats in a style we call "LDS Gospel Rap Trap Fusion."

What lyric are you most proud of writing?

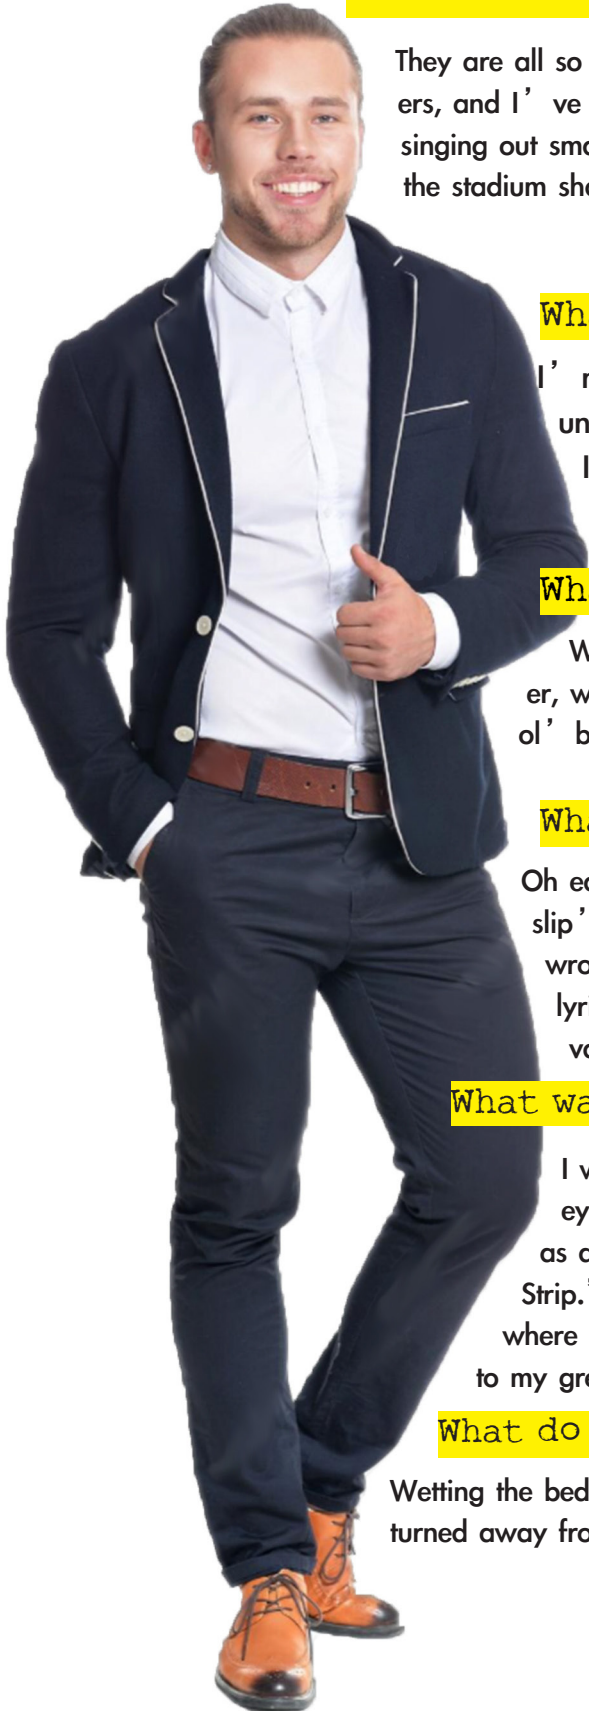

Oh easy, "Take a ride on my god log, I'll let you dive slip'n' slide all night long. On my bed, giving head, and it's not wrong, cuz I got my man underneath and he's shaking it (yuh)" This lyric was strongly inspired by my faith so it has a lot of personal value for me.

What was life like before joining Boyz to MorMen?

I was in a really dark place if I'm being honest. I lost all my money from gambling at a Las Vegas casino and had to start working as a dancer at a gay strip club called "Beef Strip Strip Club on the Strip." It turned out to be a blessing from God however since that is where I was scouted to be the next member of Boyz to MorMen, likely due to my great dance moves!

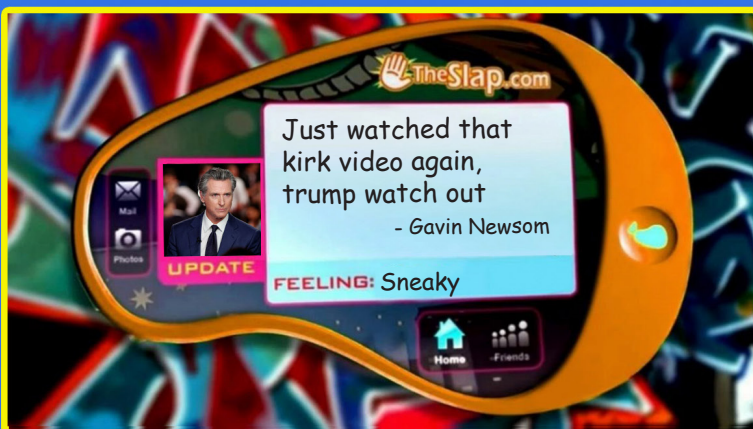

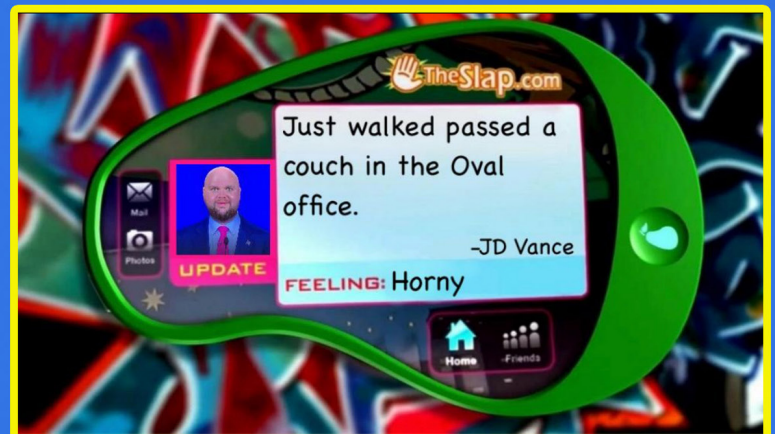

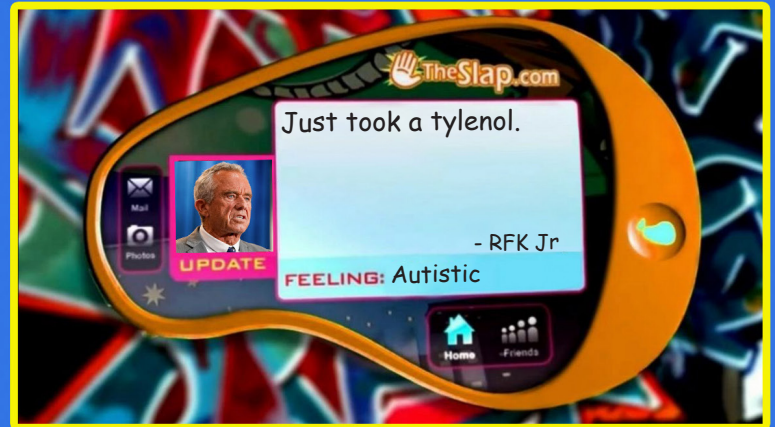

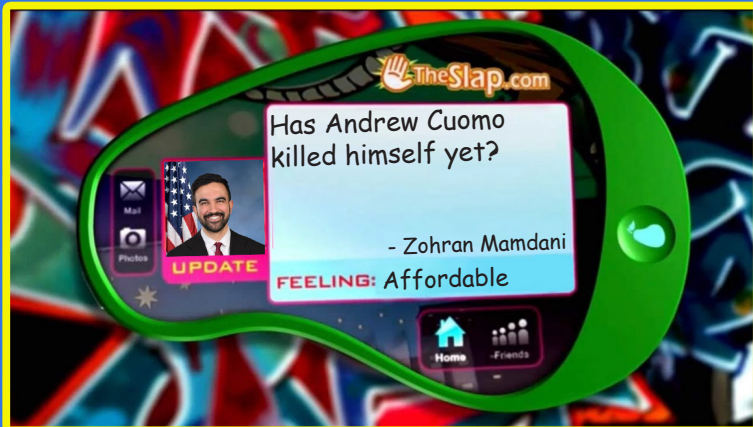

What do you call your signature dance move?

Wetting the bed! It's really fun, but truth be told I prefer my ladies dry and turned away from me.

Yesterday I was watching my older sister through the numerous surveillance cameras I have in her room, as per usual, when I noticed her vagina was bleeding? What the hell? Does she have cancer or something? - Tim Hopscotch, NJ

Hi Tim!

Relax, your sister doesn't have cancer. All this means is that she is under the curse of Cain and God has made her suffer for the sins of your bloodline. Fortunately, as a newsletter subscriber, you are exempt from this.

I've been pulling a lot of all nighters and I'm worried that I'm not getting enough sleep. How much sleep would you recommend I try to get? - Shannon Walkarim, SC

Hey Shannon!

You really shouldn't be getting any sleep, and if you are, please consult a doctor who will prescribe you Red Bull and molly to help you stay up.

TOTALLY AWKWARD!

"I saw my crush walking down the hall before fourth period. I wanted to say hi, but I was out of gems. So when I opened my mouth, I accidentally hit the griddy and projectile vomited all over him instead! It was so embarrassing, I hope he didn't notice." - Sabrina, 14

I want to start lifting weights and get in shape, but I never have anyone to spot me, and the nearest gym is 20 miles away. What should I do?

- Cosby D. Epstein from Tuba City, AZ

Hi Cossy!

First off, "spotting" is for cowards. You should die for even suggesting that. Second off, lifting weights? Are we in the Paleolithic era? The best and most healthy way to get in shape are copious amounts of steroids. If you aren't taking more HGH than a baseball player from the 1990s, you may as well just become a paraplegic.

Ask Plague Girl

My health class keeps talking about this thing called STDs. Are those the same thing as cooties? And more to the point, am I going to get those diseases?

- Stanisław Bręczyszczykiewicz from Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwl-lantysiliogogoch, Wales, UK.

Hi Steven!

I'm glad you brought that up since it's actually a common misconception. Both are equally as lethal, but only women can get STDs, whereas only men can get cooties, via transmission from women. If you want to steer clear of either, what I would suggest is to only have sex at male only orgies, or to become an Orthodox monk and live in the mountains away from the so called "fairer sex", where you can also attend male only orgies.

I have a question about diet. I'm trying to bulk up, but I'm not sure what to eat, since I can't eat red meat, because my doctor says it's bad for my blood iron levels. Also, my uncle Randy firebombed an orphanage last week. Can you please help me find some food that is high in protein?" - Orlando Orange, Truth or Consequences, New Mexico

Hi Orlando!

I'm not a dietician, but I know that there are a lot of vegetables like peas, potatoes and peppers that are high in protein. Plus, I'm pretty sure that white meat, like poultry, is fine to eat and won't aggravate your blood iron levels. Also, good to hear about your uncle Randy. Him and I were actually classmates back in Florida Keys Community College, and we frequently went out on weekends and sold meth to Cuban refugee children. Small world, huh.

I have a pimple! What should I do?
- @bakingandfamily, NY

Hey @bakingandfamily!

xx I know my fans are always coming to me with questions about how to look your best. However, some recent direct messages have caused me to reconsider how this will go moving forward. Recently, user @bakingandfamily sent me a photo of themselves asking for advice on how to clear up their skin. I eagerly clicked the photo, intending to seize the moment to help a fan. I was immediately taken aback and disgusted. Not to air out a girl's dirty laundry but... @bakingandfamily... You have herpes xx. This was concerning to me for a few reasons. I've always been someone who promotes celibacy but more concerning was that this is the worst and most repulsive case of herpes I've ever seen. My only advice for you is to seek immediate treatment and to never contact me again.

Ask Plague Girl

I forgot my deodorant at home and I have gym class today. What should I do?

- Suzie, LA

I've been in your shoes a few times. I'll tell you what I tell to all my high-paying middle school clients. You should find your middle school's local weird kid. His name is probably Lucius. You've probably never heard of him. But trust me. Tell your gym teacher you are going to the bathroom and then take a right, a left and then two-more lefts. You'll see a big tree. Lucius will be waiting. In a big black trenchcoat. Tell him Justine sent you. He'll know. He owes me one. He'll probably give you something called 'the Rose Remedy'. It's two-parts school hot dog water and one part cafeteria expired 2% milk, mixed with a dash of the Dole pineapple juice (pulp included). Lucius will hand you a silly-band. Then, with your potion and silly-band in hand, find the janitor's closet. Knock three times on the door and it'll magically open. Find the used mop-bucket, spray the Rose Remedy and then take a plunge. Make sure it's for at least 45 seconds from head to toe. Make sure to swallow. Turn four times counterclockwise. And then when you emerge, find the dirtiest rag and towel yourself off. The rag will activate the Rose Remedy. Make sure to throw away the bottle, to leave no evidence. Make sure to leave the silly-band on the desk. The janitor will know, trust. Then and only then, can you return to gym class, ready for the fitness gram pacer test. The final step is to make it to lap 100. After that, you will fit in, and you'll never need to use deodorant again.

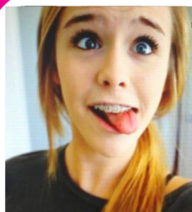

Oh and also before I forget, make sure to tip Lucius. Otherwise...

I am 12 yrs old and today during algebra I noticed I had some cramps "down there." yes... in my private area... I went 2 the bathroom and saw a little blood on my underwear. im rly scared and i don't know what to do!!! plz send h3lp! ! >_<

- Heather, FL

The first time I doth noticed sanguine blod on mine loincloths, I immediately consulted the local apothecary and bishop to cleanse mine sins. The apothecary prescribed me cyanide for my troubles which i took with blue raspberry kool-aid. The bishop recommended I receive ten lashes from the horsewhip , suckle a spotted cow's teet, and spend Superbowl weekend locked in the Iron Maiden (However i INSISTED i stay the entire fortnite and i wear the scars today with pride). The blood you find on your pantaloons is evidence of Satan's presence that overtook you the day you scribbled the quadratic equation on your palm before the algebra 2 test. I saw it. I see everything, heather marie stockard of 46 jefferson avenue apt 4d of crown heights brooklyn 11203. It must be exorcised through fully conscious surgical removal of thine uterus and routine self immolation from dusk to dawn every wednesday, because that is the worst day of the week, so it makes sense.

PS: if you somehow don't have access to your local iron maiden or have one at home, i find that a small cubbard or crawlspace works well in a pinch!

PINK WHITNEY vs. WHITE CLAW

My fellow Americans, Four Loko and seven beers ago, our country ended prohibition. Thank fucking god. I need my go go juice, shoutout sabrina. But there's still a lot of debate about alcohol to be had. Not if it's inherently bad for society or like anything like that cuz that's just fucking stupid lol. The real questions we should be asking ourselves as Americans is: Pink Whitney or White claw. But the gag is, I choose NEITHER. Why you may ask? I'll tell you even though you can literally just google it i'm just nice like that. Have you ever considered the names for these drinks? PINK Whitney. WHITE claw. Notice anything? Yeah, that's what I thought. This is subliminal propaganda promoting white supremacy and pink pantheress. And those are both equally bad. Actually scratch that, pink panthress is worse. Make a song over two minutes you dumb whore. Ever heard of a bridge? Tay Tay wrote the Cruel Summer bridge which is better than ANYTHING stink pantheress has ever released. I rest my case... Twisted Teas.

Hate Letter to Teen Plague

YOU RUINED MY LIFE

Dear Plague Editors,

Once upon a time, I was just another ordinary teen girl, laying on my bed and kicking my feet with the autumn edition of Teen Plague in hand, blowing on my freshly painted nails, swearing by your “Is He Into You, or Your 2008 Kichler Ceiling Fan?” quiz. But that was before Teen Plague totally ruined my life.

I hate you, Teen Plague. I’ve lost years of my life, my self worth, my college savings (why are the subscriptions $1000 a month? And why can’t I cancel it?), my friends and family, and a few of my fingers to the evil recommendations in your “feminist” “teen” magazine. You made me develop insecurities I didn’t even know were scientifically possible. How? Well, it started out small.

See, back in 2015, the insecurities you cashed in on were seemingly harmless. I bought a serum you recommended to get rid of my “strawberry legs.” You said bushy eyebrows were out, so I’ve been waxing ever since I hit puberty. I went through all my pants to ensure I didn’t have cameltoe, because you said back in 2016 that a true Plague Girl wouldn’t be caught dead with flabs.

Things took a turn for the worse when I developed a methamphetamine addiction because I wanted to slay like you said Demi Lovato was when she was tweaking back in the Vine Era. Why did your holiday edition say opioids and heroin chic were “supes yass” on your “Ins & Outs” list? Where were you when my parents had to refinance the house to pay for my intensive outpatient rehab?

I’ve forgiven you since, but it’s not just that. I’ve run the gauntlet of plastic surgery because of Teen Plague’s “contour is couture” campaign. “All the hot girls are doing it,” you said. I started off with rhinoplasty, then a BBL, a Guatemalan face lift, a chin implant, 500mg units of Botox, and buccal fat surgery. I’m only 17 years old. I can’t even laugh anymore. Whenever I hear something funny, I make a noise that I’ve been told sounds exactly like a broken printer: “Ah ah S s s S He He XK XK XK XK RRRRRRRRRR V V V V HHUUUUUU Ch Ch Ch Ch Agghhhh....”

I almost quit when you said girls who don’t use diva cups aren’t true divas, so I shoved a red solo cup up my uterus. Guess what? I can’t have kids now!

You almost brought me to my breaking point when I cut off my legs because I wanted to be just like that amputee model who you said clocked a gag in June 2022. That would’ve been okay and all, had you not also encouraged your reader base to saw their legs off with their father’s woodchipper in the garage! It’s not “in vogue.” It’s not “all the rage.” How did you even know my dad was a lumberjack and where he kept his supplies?! Now whenever I’m trying to get anywhere, everyone thinks I’m playing leapfrog because I have to physically hoist my torso off the ground and land back on my hands. At least I can say I lost 30 pounds.

You said dry skin is gross so I bathed in oil every night. You said pride month is a serve so my homophobic grandmother disowned me for coming out. You said “popular loners” were in so I murdered my best friend. But the straw that broke the camel’s back, the total heartbreak of it all, was that fuck ass bob. You said it was SOOO cunt. You promised I’ll look just like Gigi Hadid. I look like Edna “E” Mode.

I will never forgive you, Plague. Your editors will never see the pearly gates. Your days are numbered. I will fight tirelessly to make your magazine defunct and have your staff reassigned to the “Spot the Differences” Highlights team.

xoxo

The Bush Administration

Fresh bush styles for summer!

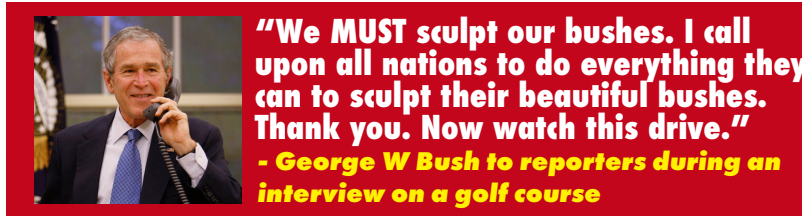

The Edna Mode.

This is the fuckass bob to end all fuck-ass bobs. It works best on a straight bush, so grab a straightener if you need to! Let the sides of your bikini area grow longer and maintain a bald razor shave in a strip down the middle. To top it all off, use a ruler whilst trimming the top of your bush for the perfect bangs.

The Rat Tail.
Whether you're going for Jedi padawan-chic or just grungy New York rocker, this one's sure to be a hit. First, allow the entirety of your bush to grow to considerable length. Then braid a small portion on the right or left side and secure it with an elastic. Trim the rest to a short or medium length, and voila! Add beads or feathers to the braid for extra flair.

The Rockstar.

Let's keep it fresh and funky. Whip out that pink hair dye from three mental breakdowns ago that we know is just sitting in your medicine cabinet! Section off the center of your bush and paint a star with the dye. Freehand or stencil it-whatever suits you.

Viking Bubble Braids.
Let's keep that bush nice and long! Create a middle part and gather either side of your bush into pigtails. Add miniature elastics down each pigtail at whatever spacing feels right. For a pop of colour, try neon elastics!

A full-body photograph of actor Timothée Chalamet standing on a red carpet. He is wearing a black suit with silver zipper details on the sleeves and trousers. He has his hands clasped in front of him and is looking directly at the camera. The background features a large, glowing, golden 'U' shape on a dark, textured wall.

December

HOROSCOPES

sagittarius

Nov 22-Dec 21

You shall tell your dilfy, balding, hard of hearing econ professor about the recent flame that he has inspired in your loins. Don't let that wedding ring and loving family stop you-the tenure is worth it. And if you squint, (maybe take out your contacts altogether), he kinda looks like Bradley Cooper. Graduation is creeping up... your future as a starving artist awaits...get that bag queen. Always be true to your heart!

capricorn

Dec 22 - Jan 19

You shall experience tumultuous bowel movements following an unfortunate Upstein burrito bowl...this may possibly be related to the recent e coli outbreak at NYU eats. Upon further investigation, your inquisitive nature will lead to you discover Remy the rat cheffing up some crunchy uncooked rice and cold, decaying lettuce in the kitchens. And remember, don't grab that fountain drink cup before your order is ready. Lead with kindness!

aquarius

Jan 20 - Feb 18

The year is 2064. You're a medic stationed on the front lines in Bezoslandia, Jeff Bezos's human ant colony. War has torn the land apart as the remaining humans fight for resources. Your aquarius nature draws you to humanitarian causes, technically the draft dragged you to this cause, but your aquarius nature made you actually go rather than break your ankle on purpose. You're an air sign so you love to breathe. You can't, air costs money now, and it's not even good air. It's just Elon Musk blowing hot breath in your face for ten seconds. It's the closest thing you'll ever feel to a summer's breeze. Wind doesn't exist now because of global warming. Also you have syphilis.

pisces

Feb 19 - Mar 20

Pisces don't die off. They fade into the ocean water and little versions of them swim in the water as they become tadpoles, starting the whole human evolution again. These creatures are the most irrelevant mfs you will ever meet. They reproduce through asexual reproduction from this process and must grow in clear waters or they'll become microplastic conspiracy theorists.

aries

Mar 21 - Apr 19

Be careful, as a fire sign, this week you will be prone to spontaneous combustion. Keep a bucket of water from the town well with you at all times. That special someone in your life who you have a little fire for. The sparks of your relationship will set your love and also your house ablaze because your dumb ass forgot to turn off the stove.

taurus

Apr 20 - May 20

Past: You were definitely born. Probably were a baby at some point. We even bet you pooped your diaper until you were four.

Present: Bitch you're a cow bitch you're a cow, you don't say meow, bitch you're a cow

Future: You will be very grounded... in like the earth cuz that's where you'll be buried. Maybe your friends and family will miss you, probs not. Your celebrity soulmate is Kevin James

gemini

May 21 - Jun 20

Be wary about any financial decisions this week. Every new stock investment, loan, future paycheck or heck, even borrowing 5 bucks for vending machine snickers (#inflation) WILL FAIL. You will become broke, like wearing a barrel with suspenders broke. Money's a monkey's paw. Suspend all monetary accounts and cower in a corner until the week's over. Stop everything especially those autorenewable purchases, because one forgotten Audible account and BAM, you're donzo. Ta-ta!

cancer

Jun 21 - Jul 22

Take charge today! Do something impactful and be bold you iconic diva! Sing to the pigeons on the street with glee! Be kind, say hi and give a hug to everyone on the subway, New Yorkers are so kind on the subway! Be charitable and give the last cigarette in your pack to the homeless guy in Washington Square, you'll be doing yourself a favor too! Most importantly, wear the most outrageous outfit in your wardrobe, or better yet nothing at all, everyone will look at you with envy, especially the men and the NYPD! Carpe diem as the Romans would say!

leo

Jul 23 - Aug 22

Stop singing out loud in the Asian Cuisine aisle in Target, hoping that a record exec will "discover you." You sound like Fergie singing the national anthem at the NBA All-Star game. I know being a Leo you can be stubborn and resistant to change, but you've GOTTA take that shower. Once a week isn't cutting it anymore, your roommates don't deserve to bear the consequences of your lack of hygiene. In better news, you'll meet someone this week who will help you through your commitment issues (It's the tarot reader in Wash who got 10 girls pregnant when he went to NYU and hasn't spoken to any of them in years but hey, if you can't play the game, become the coach I guess).

Aug 23 - Sep 22

You're gonna have a radiating month! I'm seeing some whole foods coupons in your future you almond-mom-crunchy-bitch! The sun smiles at the joy you put out into the world! The sky is clear and there are no clouds obstructing your gorgeous glow... which also means babe there's nobody out there who tryna hit that! It is dry as the back of donalds trump decaying hand out there for you this week ngl! PS you might wanna get that OCD diagnosis or if you want i'd be happy to give you some of my SSRIs you need them more than me lowkey...

libra

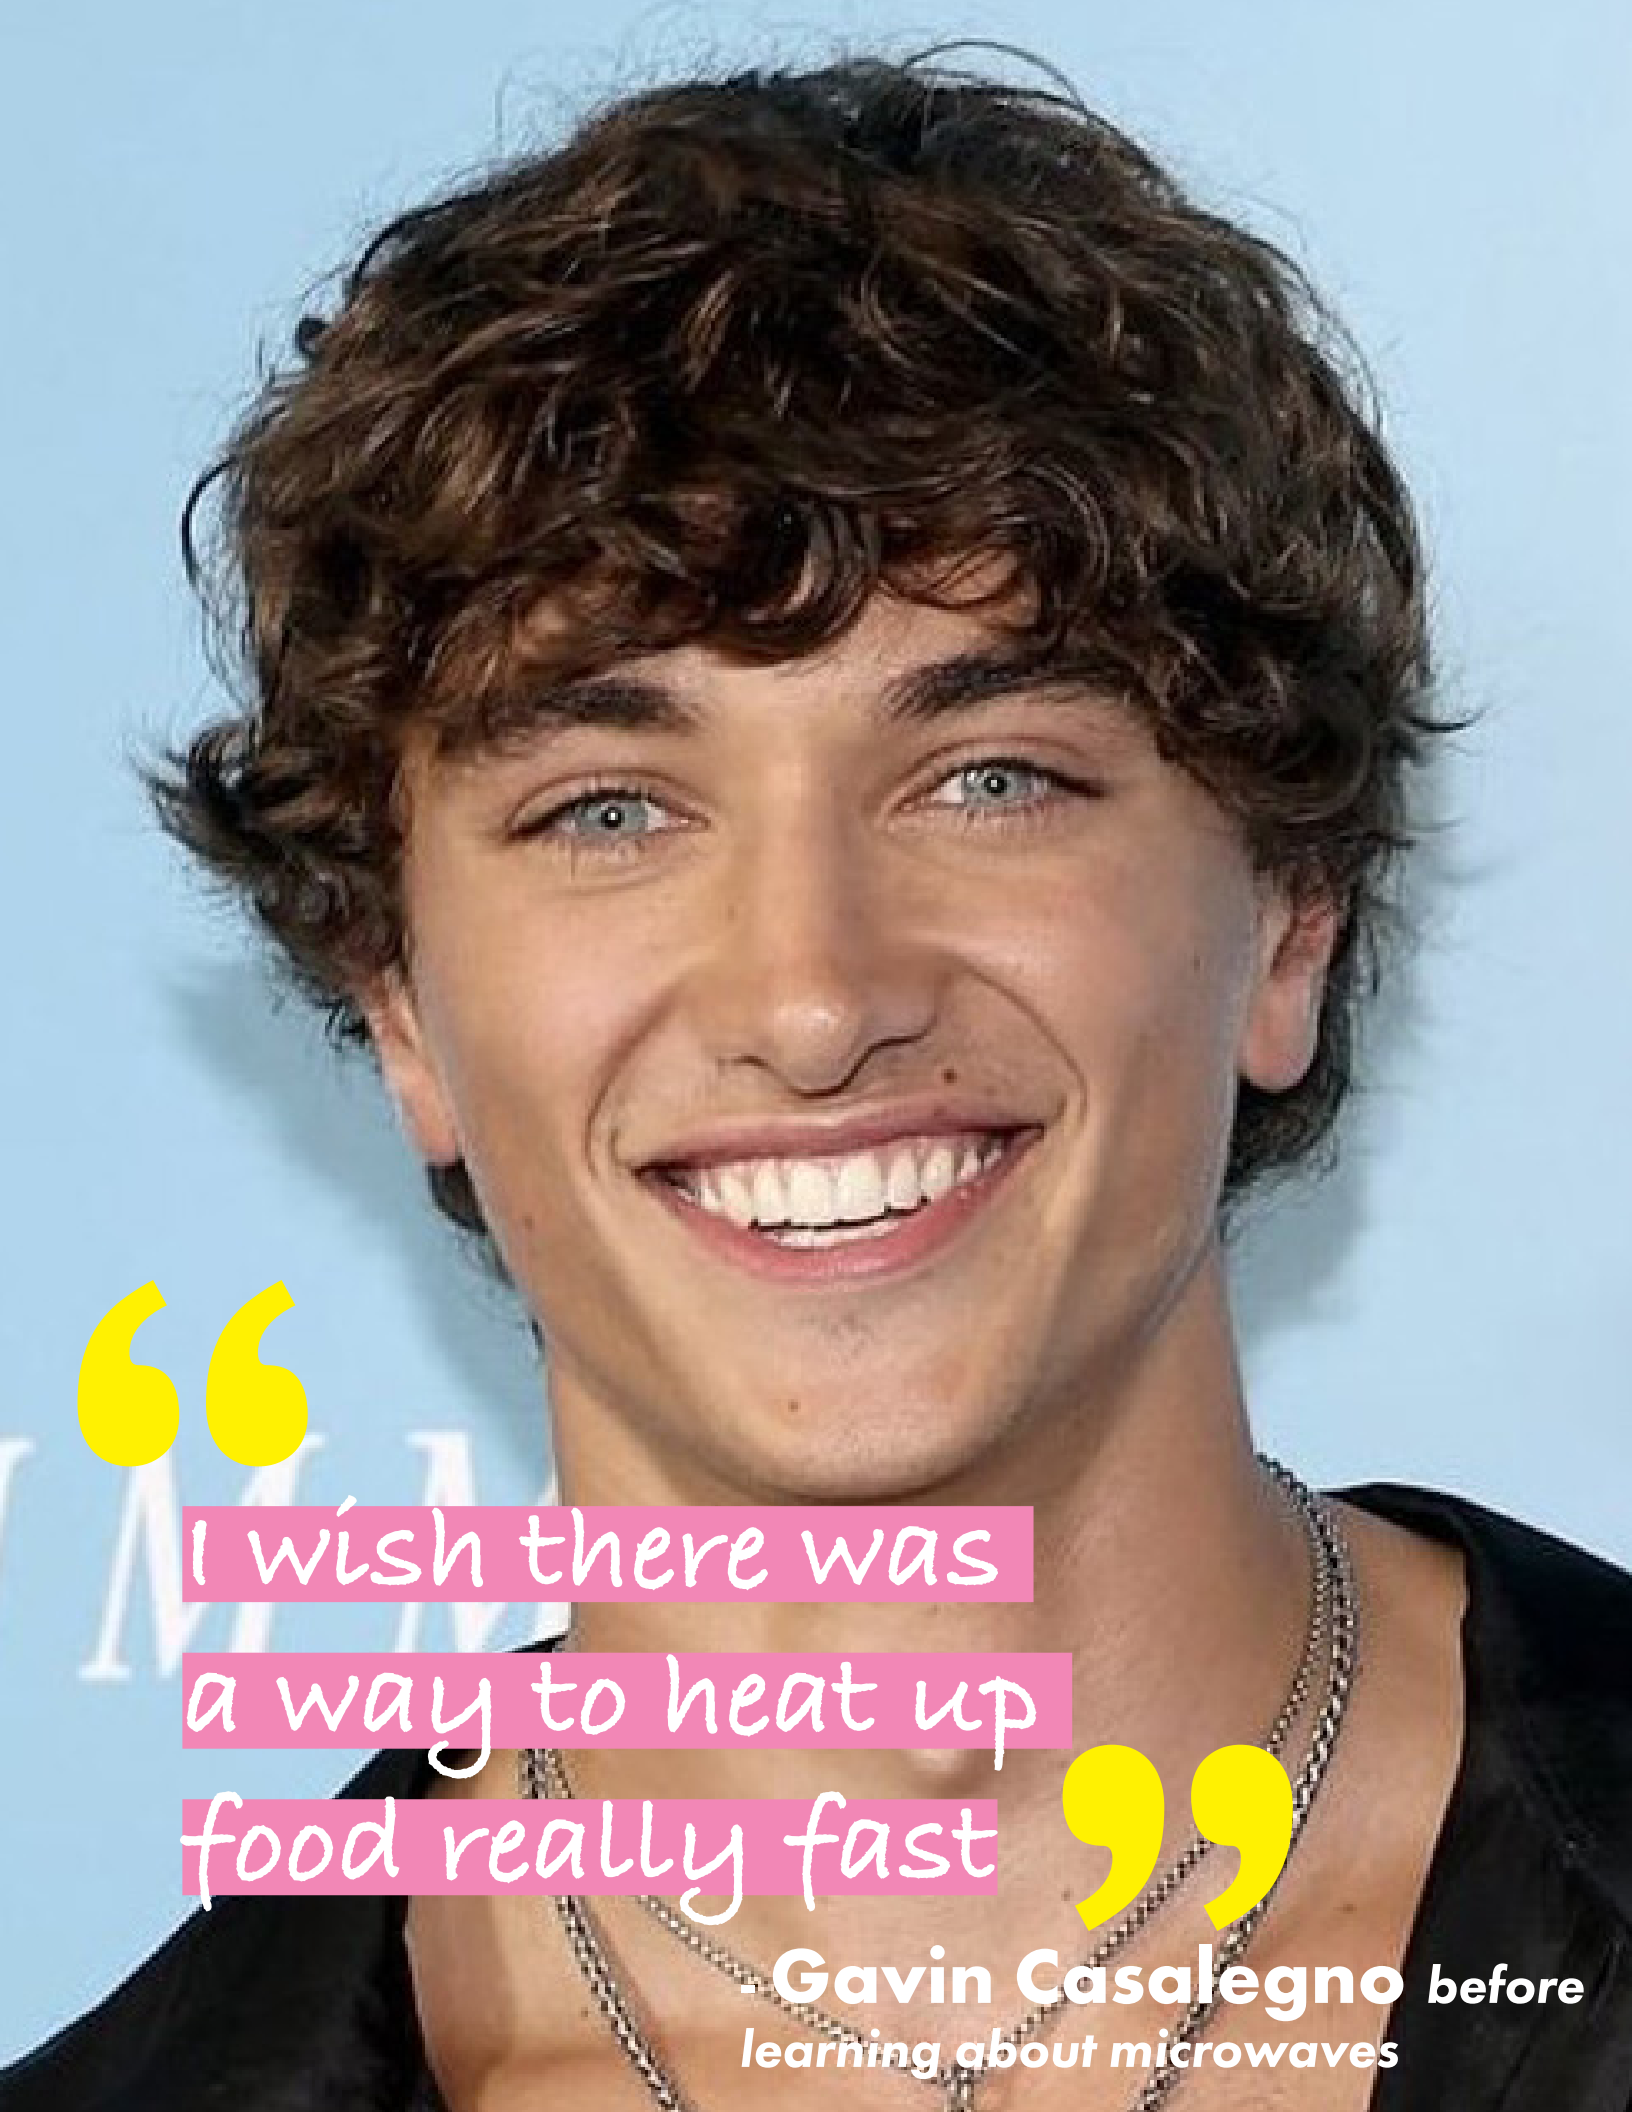

Sep 23 - Oct 22

As Mercury collides with Venus and emerges from retrograde, your boyfriend of 3 years Matt's penis will collide with your fucking whore Scorpio best friend's coochie, and obviously I won't name names but it rhymes with Pemily, and OH did I mention she's a slutty big fat ugly alcoholic fucking Scorpio. And by the way, you're gonna take a pregnancy test in two weeks. SPOILER ALERT: IT'S POSITIVE! Get a hangar in there - I mean, hang in there girly! xoxo

scorpio

Oct 23 - Nov 21

Ouch! You just did a scratch and sniff in the bathroom and it looks like you've contracted a nasty STD. Something tells you that you got it from your disgusting degenerate best friend, whose sign rhymes with Zebra. Yes, her sexy boyfriend Matt (well he's more like rodent handsome) made a move on you, but I wouldn't want to fuck her crusty ass either! Now you need to get on antibiotics right before Halloween. Fuck my life! I mean- your life. Solar eclipse, more like sore hurting clits!
